Hi, I'm Matthew Luhn. When I was three years old I drew my first cartoon character, and haven't stopped drawing since. I grew up in the San Francisco Bay area where my family has owned and operated Jeffrey's Toys for three generations. My Mom and Dad supported my love of drawing, and today I work at Pixar Animation Studios near San Francisco where I have been helping to create animated stories and characters for over 20 years! I continue to share my love for drawing by teaching kids and adults all over the world, how they too can turn their doodles into cartoons.
